Crews, Equipment Ready To Battle Storms In District

Unless there is an unusually heavy snowfall this winter, both the county and state crews are prepared to take ample care of snow removal, according to the Nevada County Department of Public Works and the state division of highways.

Director Jack Meade of the county department said that this district will have five permanent and two temporary employes to operate the nine pieces of equipment available.

The equipment includes one grader, two rotaries, one snow blast, three push plows, one sander and plow combination and one loader.

In a release from the Sacramento office, the state department said that when the heavy snowstorms blanket the Sierra this winter, clogging major roads through the mountain passes, California Division of Highways will be on the job with men and equipment to remove snow and help conduct traffic through the storm areas.

270-MAN CREWS

About 195 pieces of specialty equipment have been disbursed to the snowbelts along Interstate 80, US 50, and State Highways 49 and 20. They will be operated by 270 crewmen, including 95 in dormitory residence, who will work in shifts to plow snow and sand and salt the roads—around the clock if necessary.

There are about 75 miles of Interstate 80 in the snow zone, 60 miles on US 50 and 100 miles on Route 49.

In the heavy snow country there are certain locations, based on experience of past years, where it is often necessary for motorists to put on or take off chains. These designated points are generally at the base of long grades where wide shoulders or extra lanes can accommodate parked vehicles without undue hazard.

CONTROL POINTS

Such names as "Baxter", "Carpenter's Flat" and "Kingvale" on I-80 and "Kyburz" on US 50 will be repeated over and over again on radio, television and in the press this winter as control points beyond which chains will be required.

When heavy snow makes it necessary to set up a chain control, an orange Division of Highways truck with blinking red lights and a "Stop" sign will be stationed

Joseph Joynt Will Replace Tofft As Hospital Director

Joseph Q. Joynt, well known Tahoe City attorney and resident of that community since October, 1964, Friday was selected as a member of the governing board of the Tahoe Forest Hospital District, replacing Ivan J. Tofft, who recently resigned because of illness.

At the meeting Friday, Gordon Moyer of Tahoe City was named president of the board, Dr. Gardner Pier, vice president and William Vail was retained as secretary. Tofft was previously the board president.

Joynt is a graduate of the Creighton University School of Law in Lincoln, Nebraska, and was licensed to practice in that state in 1951. He came to California in 1956. For three years he was attorney for the California Farm Bureau and three years with Carnation Company, before engaging in private practice in 1960.

He and his partners practiced in Sacramento and in 1961, Joynt opened his office at Tahoe City. He is licensed to practice in all courts in the state.

The selection of Joynt as a board member was made from several applications. His term expires at the end of the next year.

First Storm Leaves Light Precipitation

With prosepcts for continuing stormy weather, another 1.80 inches of precipitation in the form of wet, slushy snow and rain fell during the 24 hours ending at 8 a. m. today to bring the storm total to 4.80 inches.

Snow was continuing on Donner and this morning the chain control was from the Truckee quarantine station to Cisco.

This area experienced its first taste of winter during the past week when for the first time this fall, the chain control was enforced for a short time over Donner Summit.

The storm started last Friday and has continued intermittently since that time, leaving a total of 3 inches of precipitation, mostly in the form of rain with about two inches of wet snow falling Tuesday evening.

The Forest Service reported the heaviest fall was on Sunday with 1.10 inches and on Wednesday with 1.33 inches.

Outside burning was being permitted and lookouts were taken from the forest service stations for the first time this fall.

Tahoe National Forest Supervisor Hank Branagh reports that campfire permits are no longer required on National Forest lands on the Tahoe National Forest. Requirements for burning permits for debris burning on National Forest land as well as on private land are unchanged. The burning permit requirement is in effect until November 30 unless extended by the state forester.

North Tahoe Eyes Incorporation As Local Plan Lags

With South Tahoe officially incorporated into a city, the first formal step toward incorporation of North Lake Tahoe was taken this week when the Placer County Board of Supervisors authorized $2,000 for a financial feasibility study to see how much it would cost to operate a city in that region.

Supervisor William Briner, who suggested the study, said that he was neither for nor against incorporation at this time.

"We hope this study will determine the cost of operating an incorporated city," Briner said "We want the Tahoe people to know if they will benefit by such a change."

In the meantime, the plan to bring the issue of incorporation before the voters in the Truckee-Donner community has apparently reached a stalemate. Petitions are short of the required number of names and whether or not renewed efforts will be made to decide the question are in doubt.

A survey made last year indicated beyond a doubt that the area would be far better off under incorporation and volunteers, headed by Dr. Ben King, sought the required signatures. coming close to the mark but still discouragingly short. Whether efforts will continue remains a moot question but a very important one.

Food Sale Planned To Buy Uniforms

A bake sale will be held November 20 by the Tahoe Truckee High School band, chorus and majorettes in an effort to raise funds for new uniforms and equipment for the boys and girls.

In charge of the project are S. Martin, Warren Moyer and Maryann Atkinson.

The young people are outside representatives of the community while in competition with other similar organizations and should present an attractive appearance. The full cooperation of the students, teachers, parents and other friends will be welcomed to make the sale a success.

The ninth man on the committee is to be chosen and Frank Stead, Governor Edmund G. Brown's appointee said: "This man may become the permanent chairman of the committee."

Absent from the meeting last week were State Senator Henry Berrum, Douglas County representative and James Robertson, mayor of Carson City and Ormsby County representative.

The session was featured by representations by four existing organizations working on problems which the committee will face during the next two years.

Three Escapees In Wild Chase Nabbed

Three escapees from the California Youth Authority camp at Washington Ridge near Nevada City, are back in custody today following their capture by Officers Carroll Maynard and Don Marker of the California Highway Patrol shortly after midnight Monday morning.

The officers had been alerted that the three youths had stolen a pickup truck with a camper attached and were traveling east. They took their post near Cisco and when the stolen vehicle passed they gave pursuit.

It was a wild ride as the youths raced up to 80 miles an hour on the slippery highway, leaving the freeway at one point near Big Bend to travel for some distance on the winding, snow-covered old Highway 40.

Returning to the freeway, with the officers in hot pursuit, the three escapees were finally stopped near Hampshire Rocks and surrendered meekly. A report that the three were armed with rifles was investigated but no weapons were located.

Shortly after the capture, three sheriff's cars and other vehicles which had engaged in the chase arrived on the scene and the three suspects were returned to Nevada City.

Patrol Officer Hurt Transporting Suspect

Highway Patrol Officer Carroll Maynard is nursing a stiff neck and head injuries as the result of being kicked while escorting a prisoner to jail Friday morning.

According to the officer's report, he and Officer Don Marker were called to Cisco shortly aftermidnight after word was received that a drunk was causing a disturbance on an east-bound bus.

When the officers arrived, most of the passengers had left the bus and Ralph K. Craddick, 46, Alameda, was taken into custody and placed in the rear seat of the patrol car. Marker was driving with Maynard in the front seat beside him. Suddenly and without warning, Maynard declared, Craddick swung his feet, striking the officer beside the head, momentarily dazing him.

Since the original disturbance occurred in Placer County, the suspect was taken to the jail at Tahoe. However, after consulting with District Attorney Harold Berliner, a more serious charge of assaulting a peace officer was filed in Nevada County and Craddick was returned to jail here to await further investigation on the felony charge, Maynard said.

Craddick, Maynard said, was the worst for wear following his alter cation with other passengers in the bus prior to the arrival of the officers.

Voters Will Decide Future Of Hospital At Polls Next Tuesday; Directors Tell Of Necessity For Passage Of Bonds

If two-thirds of the voters going to the polls on Tuesday approve a bond issue for $645,000 to complete the expansion and modernization of the Tahoe Forest Hospital, work can continue, giving this area one of the best and most modern institutions in this area of the west.

If the two-thirds majority is not received, directors say they have two choices—either abandon the project until sufficient financing can be secured to complete the job, which may take five years or more, or they can call still another costly election in the hope that those opposing the project may reconsider.

In a previous election, held August 31, the issue lost by a narrow margin when only approximately 25 per cent of the registered voters turned out. It is apparent that there is far more interest taken in the forthcoming election, but the issue is still very much in doubt.

Numerous home meetings and organizational gatherings have been held with speakers attempting to explain the need for the additional money and more important, the need for completion of the work on the hospital in the immediate future.

Opponents to the bond issue base their arguments on what they contend are shortcomings by the directors, the administration, doctors, architect and other personnel, but are apparently overlooking or ignoring the basic issues involved—wlil this district have the type of a hospital that is required and can it be completed to meet the immediate demands?

In public statements, the directors attempted to present reasons why the sum requested has been increased from the original estimate of $1,150,000 to $1,650,000 and now $1,695,000. They charge that the architect's figures were considerably less than the lowest bid submitted, but that in order to get the work underway, they decided on a change order to bring the figure down to the amount of money available.

When it was learned that anticipated grants to fill the gap in the change order were not going to be forthcoming, at least immediately, leaving the project without necessary equipment, they decided that the most equitable means of raising the money would be through a second bond issue.

According to directors, the contractor agreed that if $600,000 could be assured by September 1, he would complete the project at that figure. The election failed to meet the two-tihrds majority and another $45,000 was demanded and added to bring the amount needed to $645,000.

It is admitted by both those for and those against that the hospital is costly, it is admitted that mistakes may have been made, but none have denied the necessity for a modern, well equipped hospital and apparently the only way this can be obtained is with a favorable vote at Tuesday's election.

Polls will be open in Truckee, Kings Beach, Tahoe City, Soda Springs and Floriston from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. and everyone qualified, either for or against, should vote giving the directors an indication of what steps to follow.

The Hospital Story

It started in 1949 when the Tahoe Forest Hospital District was formed and the voters passed a bond issue to build the hospital for the community. The building was completed on land donated by Richard Joseph and was in operation by 1952.

It served the area well until about 1957 when it became evident that it was much too small. Patients, seriously in need of medical care were forced to be bedded in hallways. Many have had to be turned away to hospitals elsewhere.

Action was taken, and in January 1964, the voters passed a bond issue for $1,150,000 to expand the present facilities.

This time it was deemed prudent to include into the structure enough of the costly but necessary items, that is dietary, radiology, surgery, emergency, pediatrics, etc., so that in the future, when population increases demanded, only bedrooms (relatively inexpensive) would need to be added. New plans not only correct inadequate combined surgical and obstetrical facilities, but provide enough of all basic hospital services, such as emergency rooms, children's ward and kitchen, so that future needs may be met by relatively low cost bed additions only.

After lengthy consultations with medical staff, the hospital board of directors and other hospitals, the architect presented a set of plans that fulfilled the needs, apparently within the budget limits assuming, however, that much vital hospital equipment would be furnished by foundation funds or grants. There was strong assurance that such funds would be available.

When the construction bids were opened in March, 1965, the lowest bid was for $1,302,713, or an amount in excess of the budget set in 1962.

At this point the hospital district board had three choices:

1. Reject the bids and redesign the hospital. This would have caused delay of a year or more, added to construction costs due to yearly increases in material and labor and result in a building inadequate for fulfilling the district's needs now and for the future.

2. Ask for an override tax (a simple majority vote) which would put the tax burden only on the taxpayers in the area for the next five years and again cause lengthy delays and added cost in construction.

3. Scale down the lowest bid offer by instituting a charge order, thereby permitting construction to start at once at today's prices and ask the voters to pass a 30-year bond issue for money needed to reinstate the change order while construction was under way at today's prices.

After careful study, it was determined that only choice No. 3 would:

(a) Allow construction to start immediately.
(b) Spread the tax load over more taxpayers over a longer period.
(c) To be most economical in the long run.
(d) Give the district the type of hospital it needs and deserves.

Early in 1965, a contract was let to Ralph Larsen & Son to remodel the old hospital and construct the new addition in accordance with change Order No. 1 for the sum of $1,085,000.

Soon after construction started it became evident that anticipated funds providing for needed equipment would not be forthcoming.

On August 31, a bond issue was presented to the district voters asking for money to reinstate change Order No. 1 and purchase the necessary equipment.

This was defeated by a narrow margin when less than 25 per cent of the registered voters turned out to cast their ballots.

On Tuesday, November 23, the voters will again be asked to go to the polls and vote on this important issue. Some questions of concern are answered here:

Question: How does the cost of the new building and remodeling the old structure, plus purchase of equipment compare to the cost of the original hospital?

Answer: The old hospital, equipped cost approximately $600,000. The new addition, plus remodeling and equipment costs $1,730,000.

Question: Why is the bond issue now $45,000 more than before?

Answer: The builder agreed under the contract to reinstate change order No. 1 at no extra cost if it could be done prior to September 1, 1965. After that date construction would be so far along that the changes would require more money. The September deadline was the reason for setting the previous election for August 31.

Question: Will the district be asked soon again to pass another bond issue?

Answer: No. This hospital will meet all requirements for a long time and when the population growth does demand it, the hospital will be so complete that only bedrooms will need to be added.

Question: What is the hospital tax rate?

Answer: 20 cents per $100 assessed valuation, the maximum legal limit and far below other taxable services.

Question: How much will this bond issue cost the individual taxpayer if passed?

Answer: Little more than the price of a cigarette a day for the average home owner and smaller as the area population grows and more taxpayers share the costs.

Question: What will happen if this coming bond issue fails?

Answer: An empty shell will stand idle, unable to take care of the community needs or an override tax could be imposed upon the taxpayer to finish the project.

Question: How do we know that the amount now requested will complete and equip the hospital?

Answer: The existing contract assures it with the reinstatement of change Order No. 1 Any help received from outside philanthropic sources, now being applied for, would reduce bond sales by an amount equal to such grants, thus affording a tax saving.

Snow at last! But it didn't last too long around the lake, the ground is still too warm.

The kokonee are out there thrashing around near the shore depositing their eggs in the sand. Quite a sight.

Members of the Tamarack Ski Club of Sacramento were out in force last weekend to ready their lodge for the coming winter season. Located right on old hiway 40, it's a fine location for all the ski resorts.

Those stakes and markers along the hiway are for the sewer lines that will be coming next year or the following.

While in the bay area last week, we stopped in to see Bill Klein's new ski shop at the popular Ghirardelli Square in San Francisco.

Bill mentioned that his shop at Sugar Bowl will be open for business when the resort opens December 18th.

While having lunch at Senior Pecos, we sat next to Ian and Cricket McKinlay of Orinda. Ian is the architect who designed the building going up at the new Boreal Ski area off Interstate 80 on the new summit.

Isn't it interesting to watch the birds every time the trees get wet, how busy they are getting the little grubs and bugs that come out of the bark.

Don't forget the Tahoe Forest Hospital bond election November 23rd. We need that hospital and all its facilities present and future. Vote.

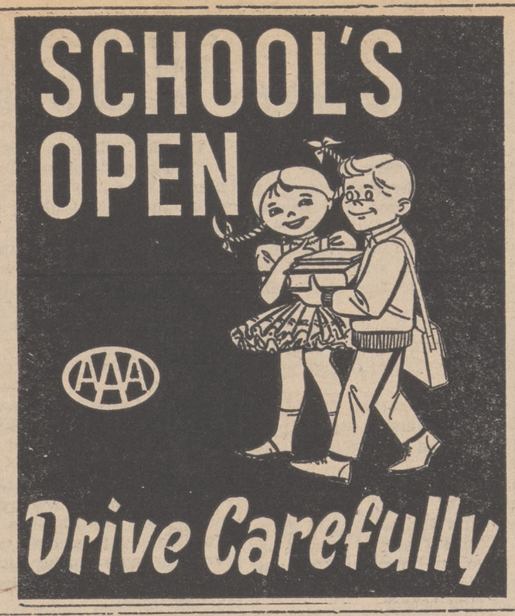
The Sierra Tinker Belles Garden Club members deviated from their usual plant discussions and learned the art of making Swiss cheese fondue. Selina Studer of Switzerland now living at Donner Lake made the arrangements to have the group meet at the Olympic Village where they ate the fondue after Chef Dambach demonstrated the procedure. It was a memorable afternoon with accordion music and yodeling.



SIERRA SKIING

By VI WHITE

Ah! Isn't it great to see that white stuff covering the ski slopes again!

If this snow keeps up there will be plenty for the first ski races of the season coming up shortly.

Heavenly Valley will hold their annual Pheasant Slalom for Classes A, B, C, November 27, the Saturday after Thanksgiving. Send entries to Fred Corfee, 2412, 16th Street, Sacramento.

The following day, November 28, the Squaw Vallley Sporting Club will sponsor the annual Turkey Trophy race for the same classes. Hans Von Nolde, Squaw Valley, Tahoe City, Calif., will handle the entries.

Two training camps will be held during the Thanksgiving holidays. Starting November 25, the Far West Ski Association Alpine Training Camp will begin for Class A and B racers. Send your entry to Dave Brew, 166 Dour Drive, Los Altos, Calif.

FWSA Juniors Nordic Clinic will be starting November 26 at the Sand Dunes on Mt. Rose for classes I through V, snow or no snow. Write Harry Ericson, 995 Yori Street, Reno, Nevada, for entries.

If this wet snow that fell Sunday packs and freezes, it should provide an excellent base for the next covering. Anyway it looks promising that there will be enough snow for these training camps and races.

Warren Miller's new ski movie "The Big Show" drew a full house last week when the Vorlage Ski Club of Sacramento offered it at the City College auditorium.

Several Sierra College skiers were seen there and many many young and old ski enthusiasts just aching for the ski season to start.

The Commodores Now In 2nd Week

CRYSTAL BAY—Now beginning their second smash week in the beautiful Topaz Room of North Lake Tahoe's Nevada Lodge is the famous vocal quartet, The Commodores, one of the most exciting and versatile singing groups in the country.

Having been acclaimed nationally, the four fabulous Commodores have broken records throughout the Reno-Tahoe entertainment circuit. Their magnetic personalities and professional performances won them a converted place on the "Arthur Godfrey Talent Scouts" for a record twenty-two consecutive weeks.

Each man is featured in their act, for each is an individual showman and performer. Collectively, they do impressions of all the major vocal groups; and individually, they do impressions of top singing stars.

As well as being one of the finest vocal acts in show business today, they are also outstanding instrumental musicians. Charlie Speed sings top tenor and plays bass, Rusty Wade, second tenor and piano, Kenny Smith, lead and doubles on guitar and banjo, and Ronnie Baron on drums.

Their amazing repertoire from popular standards and folk music to the swinging up-beat of current favorites insures everyone of an exciting evening of entertainment with their outstanding quartet.

Continuing to share the Topaz Room spotlight is the popular duo of John and Bobbie.

Farm-City Week is November 19–25. And here's a timely reminder from the California Farm Bureau Federation: "California is now the greatest agricultural state in the U S.A. Every year it produces more than $3.5 billion dollars' worth of food and other crops. And one out of every three jobs in California is related to agriculture." The phone has always been important on the farm—often it was one of the few regular contacts with the "outside world." We at the phone company are proud to have played a small part in the agricultural boom.

You're always as close to home and the babysitter as the nearest telephone. When you can, it's a good idea to inform your babysitter of the telephone number where you'll be. That way, she can reach you immediately if she needs to. But if you're going to be several places during the evening, you can always call home to see if everything is all right. One of the best things about your phone is that it allows you to be in two places at once.

The Pacific Telephone urges every voter in the Tahoe Forest Hospital District to exercise his or her privilege by casting a ballot at the election next Tuesday, November 23. Voting is not only a privilege but a duty—a duty which should not be neglected.

Ever hear of two birds who built a mobile home? Well, two sparrows chose to build their nest and raise a brood between the radiator and grill of a phone company truck. The truck, with the baby sparrows snugly in the nest, made a routine round trip every day, while the parents waited near the garage. Every day the engine heat substituted for Ma Sparrow's warm feathers until the truck returned and was parked in the same space every night. A "cheep cheep" from under the hood uncovered the unique mobile home. We're happy to report the tiny sparrows have grown and taken their place in sparrow society.

"SAFE" FOR 24 HOURS

Commercial parking lot operators are prohibited from towing and removing a car owned by a patron for at least 24 hours after the parking time limit has expired, says the California State Automobile Association. They are also prohibited from towing a car when there is no attendant on duty or other facility that permits the patron to pay the required charges.

TIRE HYDROPLANING MAY CAUSE TROUBLE AT HIGH SPEED RATE

You don't have to ride in a motorboat to glide along like a hydroplane. Autos do it all the time when they speed along the highways in a rainstorm.

The California Highway Patrol calls it "tire hydroplaning', a recent scientific discovery that helps to explain many a mystery crash that happens on rainy days for no apparent reason.

Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden points out that your car is like a boat on wet roads. In heavy rain, the front wheels climb up on a tough film of rain, and your car hydroplanes.

Recently, a series of tests indicated that most tires hydroplane more quickly at 70 miles an hour. Worn tires with smooth treads hydroplane more quickly, even at 50 miles an hour, Commissioner Crittenden stated.

"t is possible to drive for miles on the verge of a skid without knowing it, because of hydroplaning. As a result, a puff of wind or a gust from a passing truck can send a car into a spin."

What can the motorist do? The commissioner says the best thing is to slow down, and it's also a good idea to put more air in the tires.

"If the air pressure in a tire is increased, it narrows the tire print area on the road so that the weight of the vehicle is more concentrated and thus able to break through the surface film on the water for a better grip on the pavement," he said.

European documents are considered old only if they were written before 1400 A. D.; in America the dividing line between old and modern is the year 1650.

Snow Removal

at the control point. A crewman will check each vehicle for chains, and motorists have the option of applying them in the safety area or turning around and going back.

CARRY FUEL, CHAINS

Before traveling into the mountains, drivers are advised to carry chains, plenty of fuel, and be prepared for delays.

The heavy-duty, rotary-type plows assigned to mountain areas are capable of throwing snow off the highways at rates of 1,000 to 2,200-tons an hour. These units are radio-equipped and operators are in constant contact with dispatchers, keeping them aware of snow conditions all along the route

Mobile service units are used to fuel the heavy plows on the move, thus speeding up snow removal by eliminating the need for return to maintenance stations.

DESIGNED FOR SNOW

Interstate 80 over the Sierra summit was designed with snow removal in mind. Opened to traffic only a year ago, this freeway has cut-slopes and embankments which allow a 100-foot minimum snow throw either right or left of the highway, effectively providing for snow storage and springtime runoff without traffic interference.

But, in spite of division of highways' planning and dispersal of men and equipment to key points, it may not be possible for motorists to drive the Sierra mountain range at all times without some traffic restriction or interference.

Winter winds on the summit sometimes reach a velocity of 90-mph and reduce visibility to zero. When this happens the route must be temporarily closed for safety.

Gas Company Gets Permit For Tahoe

SAN FRANCISCO—The California Public Utilities Commission has granted a certificate authorizing Southwest Gas Corporation to construct and operate a natural gas system in the Lake Tahoe area of Placer County and to exercise franchise rights obtained from Placer County.

Authority to build a 21-mile transmission line from a point near Carson City, Nevada, to the north end of Lake Tahoe was granted by the federal power commission. The gas utility expects to provide service in the first year of operation to 2517 customers in Placer County and 400 in Washoe County.

Total company investment in the facilities was estimated at $1,268,-704, today's decision said. The utility said it expects to add 377 customers the second year of operation and 434 the third year.

Southwest Gas was ordered to maintain its records so that the investment in and operating results of the system serving the Tahoe area may be separately determined if necessary.

The commission denied a proposed marketing system, under which the utility would install house piping and a water heater, at request of the owner of a residence, and make additional monthly charges for 10 years to pay for either or both of the installations.

The order was signed by Commissioners Peter E. Mitchell, William M. Bennett and A. W. Gatov. Frederick B. Holoboff, commission president, and Commissioner George G. Grover said they would file a dissent later.

SCHOOL HOLIDAY

More than 1500 Sierra College students will give thanks next week with a Thanksgiving holiday which will make a four-day weekend out of November 25, 26, 27 and 28.

Evening classes will be dismissed on Wednesday and Thursday.

RECIPES FEATURE OF TINKER BELLE MEET

The regular monthly meeting of the Tinker Belles Garden Club was held November 9th. Selina Studer was hostess and arranged a luncheon at Olympic Village in Squaw Valley. Beside each plate was a recipe for cheese fondue, and after being served salad the club members adjourned to the kitchen to watch Chef G. Dambach prepare three large recipes of fondue.

Then the pots of fondue were placed over burners on the table and the party enjoyed the entree, which was followed by assorted Swiss cakes and sweet breads, baked by the hostess.

A pleasant surprise during the luncheon was music, presented by Arthur Brogli, who sang and yodelled, accompanying himself on the accordion as he strolled around the room.

The next meeting will be December 7th, at the home of Gladys Dolley. It will be a workshop, at which will be made decorative pieces suitable for Christmas.

Mrs. Ruth Davis has a change of address from Truckee to Gasquet, California.

Draft Classification Up To Student As Explanation Given

Draft-age college students, as well as their parents, were told today by Dr. Don R. Gerth, dean of students, Chico State College, that there is nothing "automatic" about draft deferment. The college itself makes no such request.

It is through the office of the registrar that students make application for deferment. The local draft boards decide whether or not to defer.

Some students have become confused by the announcement by Col. Kenneth H. Leitch, selective service officer for California, with offices in Sacramento.

He said that another hard look will be taken at about 158,000 California college and university students now holding the S-2 scholastic deferments; this because of the shortage of manpower to fill quotas.

Many students, he said, may find themselves reclassified and subject to the draft after this academic year.

This is where the proper request for deferment comes in, said Dean Gerth, explaining that the college registrar has a printed form for the student to fill out with information which is then transferred to the Selective Service's Student Certificate and mailed by the college to the student's local draft board.

The student is expected to provide the registrar with his name, address, the number and address of his draft board, his selective service number, whether he is an undergraduate or engaged in graduate work, and his objective if a graduate student.

The college defines his scholastic status on the SSS form 109-A, whether the student is entered upon and is satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course; is entered upon and satisfactorily pursuing a part-time course; has terminated his enrollment; or has been graduated.

Because of a previous surplus of draftage men, students have been enjoying liberal deferment rules. Anyone enrolled full-time could be deferred. But starting next June, new rules will become effective. Those taking an insufficient number of study hours or those who cannot complete a 4-year academic course in four years, will be reclassified 1-A.

Whether or not reclassificiation would mean being summoned for physical examination and possible callup would vary from one board to another, depending upon the quota call.

"It is very important for every student—and for his parents as well—to see that he keeps his draft board informed of what he is doing. Such is the student's responsibility.

League To Salvage Tahoe Urges Action

The urgent need to create a lake-wide agency to deal with water pollution and other conservation problems at Lake Tahoe was stressed today by C. Lee Emerson, vice president of the League to Save Lake Tahoe.

"Lake Tahoe must not become a Sierra cesspool, a neon jungle, or a carnival from one end to the other. To prevent this will require all the skill, determination and depth of understanding of our county, state and federal government leaders."

Emerson made the statement in a speech before the Tahoe Study Committee at the Sands Hotel on the South Shore of Lake Tahoe. The committee met to consider the league's action program to preserve Lake Tahoe as one of the world's outstanding natural resources. Governor Edmund G. (Pat) Brown of California and Grant Sawyer of Nevada were present at the meeting.

The League to Save Lake Tahoe was organized this past summer and is recruiting members throughout California, Nevada and the nation. The principal objective of the league is to save the natural beauty of the entire Lake Tahoe basin.

Specific aims include: "the preservation of the purity and clarity of the lake and adjacent streams; the preservation of the beauty of surrounding land areas; the containment of gambling casinos to areas within one mile of the Nevada state line; and the construction of a scenic two-lane parkway system around the lake."

BUSY MEETING HELD BY TRUCKEE P. T. A.

The November meeting of the Truckee Elementary PTA was held last Monday night, Mrs. Shirley Gini, president, presiding.

A letter from the "Books for Appalachia" Volunteer Council was read to members by Ione Virus, thanking us for taking part in the program which would be of such great benefit to so many children. Mrs. Mildred Denny, membership chairman, reported 242 members in the PTA. Georgiana King, announced $467.50 was realized from the 2nd annual benefit dinner held at Crystal Bay, and she thanked everyone who had taken part.

The project committee report has been postponed until January to give the committee more time to contact members.

Mrs. Miles room won the award for having the most members in PTA. A movie to be furnished by PTA to be shown at Christmas to all students was voted upon and passed.

Weston Sauby, principal, demonstrated various educational machines used in classroom instruction such as copiers, various types of projectors, tape recorders and viewers.

The room count was won by Mrs. Marquette's room, and the door prize was won by Miguel Chavez. Due to the holiday the next PTA meeting will be held December 13th instead of the 3rd Monday.

Hostesses for the evening were Barbara Eckerman, Mrs. Jellin, Mrs. Greene, Glenda Labrum, Mrs. Jack Wissenback and Gertrude Rablin.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

Practice sessions for the men's basketball program sponsored by the local recreation district area, drawing to a close. Interested players are urged to come out for the practices if they wish to play on the team of their choice. Practices are held Tuesday and Thursday nights from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. at the Tahoe-Truckee High School gym. Players who cannot make the practices but wish to play on a team are to contact Randy Bobby, recreation superintendent, 587-3090 or 587-4245 evenings.

SNOW TIRES REPLACE CHAINS ON HIGHWAY

SACRAMENTO — Although the California Division of Highways advises all motorists to carry tire chains at all times when driving in mountainous terrain where snow is likely to be encountered, a new law will permit a limited number of vehicles to operate in such areas with snow tires in lieu of chains.

The new law limits the practice to four-wheel drive vehicles which weigh under 5,000 pounds. Jeeps and a few types of campers make up the bulk of this category. The law generally permits their operators to substitute snow tires for chains in local traffic when snow conditions are not too severe.

At any time when road conditions become worse, even these vehicles will be required to use chains. Therefore, all highway traffic in such vicinities is susceptible to being stopped and only drivers who mount chains on their vehicles will be allowed to proceed. Those who do not will be turned back.

To Wed—

A Nevada license to marry was issued to Albert Strong, 25 of Crystal Bay and Mary Sprague, 27 of Reno.

Plans Advance For Staging Sno-Ball Program At Lake

KINGS BEACH—Plans were underway this week for one of North Tahoe's most festive occasions, the fifth annual Sno-Ball, scheduled for January 21, in the Topaz Room of the Nevada Lodge, Crystal Bay. The highlight of the event, sponsoerd by the North Lake Tahoe Chamber of Commerce, is the crowning of Miss Sierra Snoflake to reign during all of the season's winter carnival events.

Mr. and Mrs. David Stollery of Tahoe City will chairman this year's affair with Mrs. Don Beck in charge of the beauty pageant. This will mark the fifth year that Mrs. Beck has worked with the queen contestants to produce an outstanding pageant.

Rules for this year's queen contest specify that each contestant be sponsored by some civic or fraternal organization. Letters and entry blanks were mailed this week to all such associations and organizations. Each group is limited to one entrant and as the number of contestants also will be limited, interested organizations are urged to return the completed entry forms at the earliest possible date. The deadline for all entries is December 13.

Girls interested in entering the contest may obtain entry forms at the North Tahoe Chamber office, but must then find a sponsoring organization. Contestants must be between the ages of 16 and 21, unmarried and resident of a county which borders Lake Tahoe, Donner Lake or Truckee.

At last year's 4th annual Sno Ball, a capacity crowd saw Miss Linda Draney crowned Miss Sierra Snowflake. Miss Draney has since won other titles and has appeared throughout the state as a representative of the lake area.

Trucking Firm Fined For Undercharging

SAN FRANCISCO—The California Public Utilities Commission announced that it has fined Denio Brothers Trucking Company, Reno, Nev., $3521.76 for violations of California law by charging less than lawful minimum rates for hauling by truck under its state permit. The fine must be paid by December 19.

Commission representatives, who inspected shipping documents of the trucking company, testified at a hearing in Truckee that the company had charged $1021.76 less than lawful minimum rates on lumber shipments through misapplication of rates. Denio Trucking previously was fined for undercharging in September, 1963, the decision said. The company has a terminal at Loyalton.

Denio Trucking officials said the company has tried to comply with commission rules and that violations were not intentional.

To San Rafael—

Mrs. Stella Watson, a long time Tahoe City resident will spend part of the winter season with her son in law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Collins at San Rafael.

Back to Lincoln—

Lincoln will be the destination of Mr. and Mrs. J. Obexer for a few weeks or until the coming snow leaves Homewood.

SON IS BORN

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gourley of Truckee welcomed their son, David Wesley, born November 15 in the Tahoe Forest Hospital. David's first weight was 6 pounds, 4 ounces.

LOW BIDDER

A low bid of $233,197 has been received by the state division of highways for replacement of two bridges on Pleasant Valley road in Nevada County. Thomas Construction Company of Fresno was the lowest of seven bidders.

To Trinity—

Jim Leamon of South Lake Tahoe and Robert Leamon of Truckee were fishermen in the Trinity River area last week.

Lower Climate—

An Auburn marriage license was issued to James Engstrom, 28 of Reno and Janet Kaufman, 20 of Tahoe City.

VOTERS

Probably the most important issue to face the voters of the Tahoe Forest Hospital District in its ten-year history will be presented Tuesday, November 23, when an election will be held to determine whether or not work can continue on the hospital facility.
